July 20, 2018

Scope – Who Are You?

» Transactional lawyers

- » Drafting contracts
- » Audits and reviews
- » In-house work
- » Ghost writing
- » Client contact

» Litigators

- » Brief writing
- » Court appearances
- » Document review
- » Client contact

» Where are you coming from?

- » New to Oregon
- » Coming back into the practice of law
- » Transitioning out of firms or public practice
- » Transitioning into retirement
- » Solos looking to supplement income
- » Part time lawyers

Agenda

»Our Goal Is to Cover Issues That You Say Matter to You:

- » Unauthorized Practice of Law (UPL)
- » Referral Sources
- » Billing and Accounting
- » Advertising
- » Conflicts
- » Client Disputes
- » Confidentiality and Privilege

»We may not get to everything!

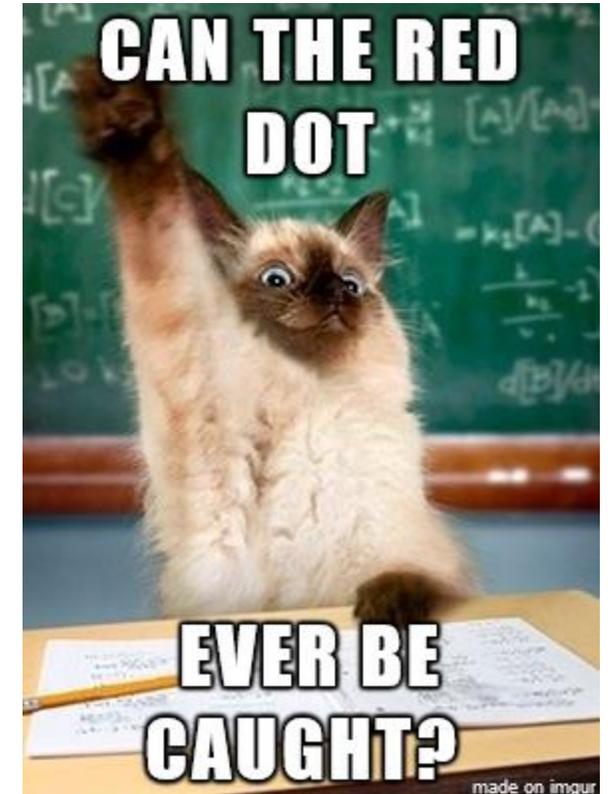

Ground Rules

» Ask questions

» we all get more out of an interactive presentation!

» Someone else did this once....

» If you have a specific question, phrase it in a hypothetical to be on the safe side.

UPL

»What can a lawyer licensed in another state do and not do in Oregon?

- » Is there any difference if they have or have not filed a reciprocity application and are just waiting for approval?
- » Took the Oregon State Bar exam and waiting for results?
- » Licensed in another jurisdiction and not looking to obtain Oregon license? (For example, military spouses or WA lawyers)
- » In-house corporate work

»What work can an OR freelancer do for a WA attorney/law firm if they don't have a WA license and are not appearing in court?

- » Research?
- » Draft pleadings/write motions?
- » Advise on federal-only matters?
- » Interview witnesses?

What is the “practice of law”?

- » Where is the line on practicing law/work that needs a license and work that doesn't?
- » What would be considered paralegal work (no license required) and what would be legal work?
 - » Another example: is in-house work with businesses involving HR consulting or labor relations coordination “the practice of law”?

Sources of Work/Advertising

» Can an Oregon licensed lawyer take work through freelancing websites like Upwork or Fiverr?

» What about with websites that connect clients to contract attorneys like Upcounsel?

» Any ethical issues when working through an employment agency like Special Counsel?

» When is it allowable for a contract lawyer to hold themselves out as part of a firm they're working with?

» For example, if hired by Firm A and contacting witnesses to interview?

» UPL-related issues

Billing and Accounting Issues

» Trust accounting: when does it apply if working with lawyers?

» For example, if I do project work with a lawyer and get paid/charge on a flat fee, can I charge a deposit/earned on receipt or a retainer? What needs to be kept in trust?

» What are the ethical considerations to be aware of when payment involves a portion of a contingent fee?

» Any ethical considerations involved in accepting credit cards?

» Which account should I put the payment in?

Conflicts

» If I do a defined project for a firm on one case, what are my conflicts?

» Does it matter if the contractor has access to firm records? Email? Internal systems and documents?

» When a lawyer transitions from firm life to contract lawyer, are all of former law firm's clients "former clients" for conflicts purposes, or just clients in matters she worked on in former employment?

» Screening

» Imputation rule

» Best practices for analyzing conflicts when doing "non-lawyer" work.

» I sometimes review the work product of other lawyers. I advise my law firm clients / lawyers that either I need to run a conflict check or they need to redact person/entity-identifying information. Is this approach overly cautious?

» What about graphic design work, such as designing AV materials for trial, etc.?

Client Disputes: Bad Clients Can Be Big Trouble for Good Lawyers

»Accounts Receivable

- » Are they yours or the firm's?
- » Writing time off
- » Client relations

»Cost of a Collections Lawsuit

- » Roughly 20 cents on the dollar
- » What is the better use of our money?

“If an invoice is due in 30 days, we pay it in 60 days.
If it’s due in 60 days, we pay it in 90 days. If it’s due in 90 days, then they probably don’t need the money anyway.”

Duty to Report

- » When is there a duty to report the behavior of my lawyer clients?
- » What if it's an issue not involving the public, but a dispute between the contract lawyer and lawyer/client. For example, lawyer-client wants to pay the contract lawyer in an illegal manner or is internally doing something that's questionable.
- » Does it matter if the contract lawyer is working as an independent contractor vs. employee?
- » How does the duty to supervise come into play?

Confidentiality & Privilege

- »Any duty of confidentiality about revealing the ultimate client if the contract lawyer's client is the lawyer?
- »How do I make sure the ultimate client's privilege is preserved?
